

“TO TEACH WHO CHRIST IS” CAMPAIGN UPDATE

November 15, 2015

We have raised $469,925 – Leadership Weekends Nov 14-15 and Nov 21-22 – Pledge Cards

I would like to continue to give you an update on the campaign that we have been doing during this time. Last weekend you have already heard from our volunteers who gave us an update about the campaign success and invite all parishioners to continue joining us as we reach closer to the goal. Today, we have raised $469,925, or 57.4% towards our campaign goal of $815,000. This is a great news for our parish. I personally want to thank those families who already pledged and helped us to get us to this point. For the next two weekends, this weekend, November 14-15, and next weekend, November 21-22, we will have Leadership Weekend. What does it mean? At this point all families should have either been contacted by a volunteer parishioner or received something in the mail about making a pledge. I would like to thank those families who have started to mail in their pledges.

On Leadership Weekend we are inviting you to sign the pledge card that you received in the mail, and drop it in the collection basket or you can mail those pledge cards back to the parish. I would like to take this opportunity to thank each one of you for your sacrifices to participate in this important campaign to help our young generation to continue to learn about their faith and to help keep our parish growing strong and vibrantly. Thank You for your continued support to St. Celestine Parish. Whatever you can give, even a small amount as you have heard the story of widow in the Gospel last week, will be appreciated by the Lord. May the Lord continue to bless St. Celestine Parish and bless each one of us as we try our best to serve the Lord and His Church!

In Gratitude,
Fr. Paul
